

- 00:26
  - Hello whenever you have a question and you want to post, the question and this slack channel.
- 00:32
  - First off, you need to select the data science slack channel whether you're an entity students or southern cruise institute students you're going to click one or the other.
- 00:42
  - Right now, we are just going to use data science channel then you're going to go to this plus sign down below and you're going to do mentor help ticket go ahead and click on it.
- 00:53
  - You're going to click and select your module so whatever module that you are currently in or just going to choose basic statistics we're going to do less than one and then you're going to also check your page number, so if you're on.
- 01:12
  - Let's just say page one, and then you're going to click on what kind of system, you have, I have a MAC so I'm going to click MAC and then right here you're in text or you're going to.
- 01:24
  - write down your question, I have a question try to be as specific as possible, someone do read it um we're not playing tag or anything we can just read your question and know what your question is and go from there alright that's it hope this helps.